

Introduction

RON J. LINT, Christian Apologist

Ron is CEO of ATI CAPITAL GROUP of COLORADO, a business appraisal and financial consulting firm. Previously, Ron was a Chief Financial Officer in industry, after which he headed the Private Business Consulting Group of a major regional CPA firm, where he managed transactions involving mergers and acquisitions, corporate financial consulting, and business valuations. Ron is a designated expert witness in the United State Tax Court and is an Instructor at the Graduate School of Taxation at the University of Denver.

Ron's passion, however, is teaching how to defend the Christian faith. As Scripture instructs, "Always be prepared to give an answer to everyone who asks you to give the reason for the hope that you have." [1 Pet 3:15 NIV] Ron is currently completing his accreditation as a Certified Apologetics Instructor by the North American Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention in conjunction with Biola University in Southern CA. He has also completed the Dynamic Communicator's Workshop at the Billy Graham Training Center in Ashville, NC. Ron's deep conviction is that our faith must be based on Excellent Evidence. Christians must be ready to rationally defend the cause of Christ to an unbelieving world. Ron lives in Estes Park, CO; and has three children and six grandchildren.
